

I would like to strongly support HB 5285 requiring the teaching of climate change in schools. Climate change, as underlined by the increasingly urgent report from the UN issued yesterday, is the most significant change to our planet possibly in human history. We need universal education to help in addressing this issue. As a grandparent with a 7 and 9 year old in Connecticut schools, I know how important it is to have a school cover crucial issues such as this, and I fully support HB 5285.
